THE CLOSING SCENES. The Presbyterian General Assembly

Dissolved.

DR. BRIGGS SUSPENDED.

A Protest Against the Judgment of the Assembly Filed and Answered-More Utterances on the Bible Question - The Final Session Held Last Night.

The 105th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America has now passed into history. The closing session was held last night, and its peaceable character was in marked contrast to the stormy scenes of character. Moderator Craig opened with a prayer of thanks for the Providence that had been over and around about the members during their conference, and of hope and anticipa-of the assembly upon the Chinese question, and on Decoration day, when resolutions in honor of the soldier dead were passed, on the ground that the sections of the confession of faith anthorizing the sittings of the assembly forbid discussion or action on such matters. The protest was received without comment. The records of the various synods were reported and approved—except those of Pennsylvania (for incompleteness), of South Dakota (for holding business sessions on Sunday). The record of Wisconsin was approved with foureen exceptions.

The final call of the roll was then had, nearly four hundred commissioners responding to their

Permanent Clerk Moore read the minutes of the final day's session and they were approved.

Resolutions of thanks to the officers of the assembly, the President and Mrs. Cleveland, Senator and Mrs. Brice and faculty of Colum-bian College, which entertained the assembly, to THE EVENING STAR and other newspapers their full reports and to the railroads, offered by Rev. Loyal Y. Graham, were adopted. Complimentary and congratulatory addresses ordination vow of said appellee, which said erroneous teachings, views and doctrines were made by Rev. W. W. Harsha of Nebraska, Rev. A. V. V. Raymond of Ohio, Rev. R. B. Booth of New York, Rev. L. Y. Graham of Pennsylvania. To all of these Rev. Dr. W. A. Bartlett, chairman of the committee of arrangements and pastor of New York Avenue Church responded most happily.

DR. BARTLETT'S REMARKS. "I am very sorry," said Dr. Bartlett, "to part with such creditable and kindly guests. I feel that you have honored the great capital in which your deliberations have been held. The Sabbath morning before you arrived I preached from the text, 'Be not forgetful to entertain strangers, for some thereby have entertained angels unawares.' It has been a common remark among my people since you have been here: 'Doctor, I think you found my angel.'

I have heard but the kindest remarks from all mond asked if that included the paper read by our people where you have been entertained and from the various hotels and boarding houses. Your behavior has been so dignified in registering the fact that, while you are earnest and independent men, you are Christians.

"My friends, carry with you the good wishes of the people of this capital city and know that you have brought us a blessing, and God enable was adopted by a viva voce vote, apparently about the same as that by which the assembly sustained the appeal. you have brought us a blessing, and God enable you to carry a blessing home with you, to which you may go with your faces shining with the light of the Lord Jesus, mingled with some of the patriotic splendor of this capital city, for Washington monument is the Rock of Ages upon which this church and the Kingdom of God are built. God go with you to your homes."

In eloquent phrase Dr. Craig made the closing speech, and at 9:50 p. m. the 105th gen-eral assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States in America was declared dis-

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

Dr. Briggs Suspended and a Protest Recorded.

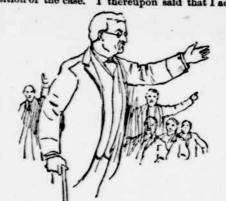

[From yesterday's Assembly edition.] The afternoon session opened with prayer by Dr. Thomas A. Hoyt, chairman of the com mittee to formulate the judgment

Dr. Baker stated the subcommittee had gone to Dr. Briggs to give him opportunity to say what he might wish to say. They had a prayer in their hearts that Dr. Briggs might say something that would relieve the situation. Their hope, however, was disappointed. Dr. Brigg insisted st.enuously, positively and
